

THE CAREGIVER CREDO

My hands are ready to assist when necessary, comfort as needed and be clasped in prayer when strength is required.

My heart is filled with love; so that I may provide care in a supportive manner and welcome all the moments yet to come.

My eyes are focused on the task at hand and open wide to capture all the wonderful details left to see.

My ears are perked so that I may hear the needs of those in my care and listen intently to their spoken words.

My shoulders are strong and capable of holding your weary head, when you seek a spot to lean.

I am the caregiver. My task is mighty and my will steadfast. I am sturdy, capable and ready to be; the very best you need from me.
